REPUBLICAN PLATFORM, ADOPTED SEPTEMBER 11, 1900.

The Republicans of New Hampshire, in convention assembled for the nomination of candidates for Governor and Presidential Electors, make the following declarations:

We cordially approve the platform adopted by the National Republican Convention at Philadelphia, June 17, 1900, and we accept each declaration of that great convention as true Republican doctrine.

We congratulate the country that the Republican party has established by legislation the gold standard, thus making it certain that while that party remains in power our money will be sound money; but we recognize the fact that the friends of such a currency must be vigilant and constant in its defense, and we pledge ourselves to oppose every attempt to reestablish silver as standard money.

We congratulate the people of the state on the wonderful prosperity which has come to every section of our land during the administration of President McKinley. The condition of business paralysis that resulted in the period of the last national Democratic administration has given place to the natural and inevitable results of a more effective, more scientific, and more comprehensive Republican protective tariff, which is rendered adjustable and advantageous to the changing and progressive necessities of international trade by the provisions of the law for treaty reciprocity. Capital is no longer idle; manufactures have been stimulated; labor is fully employed; home consumption has increased; our foreign trade has been immensely augmented, and every branch of industry is in a healthful and prosperous condition.

We heartily commend that foreign policy of the administration which has placed the United States in the forefront of the great nations of the world; that policy which has put the American people on record as loyal supporters of civilization and humanity and ardent opposers of barbarism and oppression. The military force now engaged in preserving order and subduing rebellion in the Philippines, and the American soldiers and sailors who are fighting to protect the lives of American citizens in China, must be vigorously and loyally sustained. The absurd cries of "militarism" and "imperialism" must not be permitted to check the progress of our movements; and the military arm must be active so long as there shall be rebels in Luzon and outrages committed upon American citizens in China in violation of treaty rights.

We reaffirm that principle of the Republican party set forth in the platform of the national conventions of 1856 and 1860 that the Constitution confers upon Congress sovereign power over the territories of the United States for their government, and that the Constitution of its own force does not extend to territory acquired by the United States and is a dogma at variance with the explicit provisions of that instrument itself, with contemporaneous exposition and with legislative and judicial precedent.

We sincerely commend the administration of Governor Rolins. The unremitting progress that New Hampshire is making is proof that we are governed wisely and economically. During the past fiscal year the state debt has been diminished $240,000, thus lessening the burden of taxation for the future. Our increase in population foreshadowed by the recent census, is especially encouraging; while the condition of our savings banks, mills, workshops, railroads, and farms gives evidence of a gratifying prosperity in which all classes of our people share.

We heartily approve all legislation which may tend to advance and promote the interests of our state. Whatever may be necessary to increase business at our mountain, country, and seashore resorts should be generously accorded. Facilities for travel, whether by steam, electricity, or carriage, should be of the best; and to this end we should pursue a liberal policy in matters of legislation and in the appropriation of money for public improvements. Without good roads New Hampshire will be a laggard in the competition, now so intense, for the patronage of the summer tourist. Good roads, forestry supervision, and judicious fish and game laws will attract visitors to our state, and we pledge ourselves to advance those interests in every legitimate and proper way.

We endorse the "Old Home" idea, so happily inaugurated and ably advocated by Governor Rollins; we favor liberal appropriations for benevolent and educational purposes; we approve all proper efforts to advance the cause of temperance in the home and community, and recognizing the saloon as a menace to the best interests of the people of our state, we are opposed to the repeal of the present prohibitory laws.

Believing that the reelection of President McKinley is demanded by the highest interests of the nation, we call upon the voters of New Hampshire to give their support to the nominees for presidential electors of this convention; and to the end that the policies and principles which have made our state so prosperous during the long period of Republican ascendancy may be continued, we confidently appeal for the triumphant election of our candidate for Governor. Every consideration of public good demands that the affairs of state and nation be continued in the hands of the Republican party, and the phenomenal vote of 1896, which was given as a protest against the heresies of the Chicago platform, is the best possible assurance that the state will remain true to the doctrines upon which the future welfare of our people so largely depends.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM, ADOPTED AUGUST 1,

The Democrats of New Hampshire, in convention assembled, hereby endorse and affirm, in general and detail, the national Democratic platform, adopted at Kansas City on the 5th of July last; and we reaffirm our adherence to the principles of just, honest, and economical popular government, as applied to the control of state affairs, as enunciated in the Democratic platform adopted by the convention of 1898.

We recognize the solemn and tremendous fact, that, in the campaign now opened, the paramount and overshadowing issues are those of the republic against the empire, of the man against the dollar; and we declare our unwavering loyalty and devotion to the Republican democracy established by the fathers as against the imperial plutocracy set up by Mark Hanna and his coadjutors, and illustrated in the administration of William McKinley, who, however honest in his personal convictions of "plain duty," is too weak and subservient to live up to them for a moment against the dictation of his masters.

We believe in a government of the people, for the people, and by the people, in state, in nation, and the world at large; and as we insist upon the right of self-government for ourselves, we sympathize with every people aspiring for freedom and worthily struggling therefor, in every land and in the islands of the sea.

We believe in the vital principles of the Declaration of Independence, and the binding force of the constitution, and we insist that the same shall be operative in every essential, wherever the flag of the republic floats as the emblem of American sovereignty.

We honor the bravery and devotion of the soldiers of the republic, in every struggle in which they have been engaged for the establishment and maintenance of free government, and the rights of man, and we believe they should receive the fullest measure of reward for all their service and sacrifice; but we deprecate the creation of a great standing army, either for service at home or exploitation and conquest abroad, as a menace to liberty and the ready support of usurpation and imperial power.

Our appeal in this campaign is to the reason, the judgment, the conscience and the patriotism of the people—not to their fear, servility, cupidity, or avarice. We recognize the value and influence of a fearless and uncorrupted press in the prosecution of the campaign along these lines, and we bespeak for such newspapers in our midst as have bravely and consistently championed the Democratic cause, in all emergencies, the earnest, practical support of the party, now and always.

We heartily endorse the action of the Kansas City convention in nominating for president and vice-president, respectively, that matchless tribune of the people, and gallant champion of the rights of man, William Jennings Bryan, and that living embodiment of the principles of Democracy, Adlai E. Stevenson; and to the ticket thus named, and to the worthy and honored candidates of this state convention, we pledge our earnest and unfaltering support, in which we cordially and earnestly invite the coöperation of all patriotic citizens, to the end that honest, economical, Republican government be reëstablished and perpetuated in nation and in state.

We protest against the cession of an inch of American territory to any foreign power, and we demand the protection of American citizens and property in all American territory.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE, CAMPAIGN OF 1900.

Charles H. Mellen (chairman), Somersworth; Sumner F. Claflin (vice chairman), George Howie (secretary), Charles G. Levan (treasurer), Manchester; John H. Bartlett (organizer), Bedford.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM, CAMPAIGN OF 1900.

The Social Democratic Party of America declares that life, liberty, and happiness depend upon equal political and economic rights.

In our economic development an industrial revolution has taken place, the individual tool of former years having become the social tool of the present. The individual tool was owned by the worker who employed himself and was master of his product. The social tool, the machine, is owned by the capitalist and the worker is dependent upon him for employment. The capitalist thus becomes the master of the worker and is able to appropriate to himself a large share of the product of his labor.

Capitalism, the private ownership of the means of production, is responsible for the insecurity of subsistence, the poverty, misery, and degradation of the ever-growing majority of our people; but the same economic forces which have produced and now intensify the capitalist system will necessitate the adoption of Socialism, the collective ownership of the means of production for the common good and welfare.

The present system of social production and private ownership is rapidly converting society into two antagonistic classes—i. e., the capitalist class and the propertyless class. The middle class, once the most powerful of this great nation, is disappearing in the mill of competition. The issue is now between the two classes first named. Our political liberty is now of little value to the masses unless used to acquire economic liberty.

Independent political action and the trade union movement are the chief emancipating factors of the working class, the one representing its political, the other its economic wing; and both must coöperate to abolish the capitalist system.

Therefore the Social Democratic Party of America declares its object to be:

First—The organization of the working class into a political party to conquer the public powers now controlled by capitalists.

Second—The abolition of wage-slavery by the establishment of a national system of coöperative industry, based upon the social or common ownership of the means of production and distribution, to be administered by society in the common interest of all its members, and the complete emancipation of the socially useful classes from the domination of capitalism.

The working class and all those in sympathy with their historic mission to realize a higher civilization should sever connection with all capitalist and reform parties and unite with the Social Democratic Party of America.

The control of political power by the Social Democratic party will be tantamount to the abolition of all class rule.

The solidarity of labor connecting the millions of class-conscious fellow-workers throughout the civilized world will lead to international Socialism, the brotherhood of man.

As steps in that direction, we make the following demands:

First—Revision of our federal constitution, in order to remove the obstacles to complete control of government by the people irrespective of sex.

Second—The public ownership of all industries controlled by monopolies, trusts, and combines.

Third—The public ownership of all railroads, telegraphs, and telephones; all means of transportation, and communication; all water-works, gas, and electric plants, and other public utilities.

Fourth—The public ownership of all gold, silver, copper, lead, iron, coal, and other mines, and all oil and gas wells.

Fifth—The reduction of the hours of labor in proportion to the increasing facilities of production.

Sixth—The inauguration of a system of public works and improvements for the employment of the unemployed, the public credit to be utilized for that purpose.

Seventh—Useful inventions to be free, the inventor to be remunerated by the public.

Eighth—Labor legislation to be national, instead of local, and international when possible.

Ninth—National insurance of working people against accidents, lack of employment, and want in old age.

Tenth—Equal civil and political rights, for men and women, and the abolition of all laws discriminating against women.

Eleventh—The adoption of the initiative and referendum, proportional representation, and the right of recall of representatives by the voters.

Twelfth—Abolition of war and the introduction of international arbitration.

PROHIBITION STATE COMMITTEE, CAMPAIGN OF 1900.

L. F. Richardson (chairman), Peterborough ; F. K. Chase (secretary), J. H. Dickson, Concord ; P. E. Bourne (treasurer), Pembroke ; J. M. Fletcher, Nashua ; C. F. Burge, Hollis ; J. N. Bradford, Hampton ; J. C. Berry, Plymouth ; H. O. Jackson, Littleton ; Eben Ferren, I. B. Vail, B. S. Mahen, W. F. Moulton, A. G. Stevens, Manchester ; C. T. Wiggin, Portsmouth ; E. L. Carr, Pittsfield ; David Heald, Milford ; M. C. Spokesfield, Campton ; A. W. Wark, Lancaster ; S. B. Noyes, Colebrook ; G. R. Locke, Sanbornville.

PROHIBITION PLATFORM, ADOPTED MARCH 5, 1900.

The Prohibition party of the state of New Hampshire in convention assembled in the city of Concord on this 5th day of March, 1900, acknowledging Almighty God as the source of all true government, and His laws the standard to which all governments must conform in order to secure the blessings of peace and prosperity, submit the following declarations of its principles to the impartial judgment of the citizens of New Hampshire.

1. We reaffirm the allegiance to the national Prohibition party.

2. As "the first concern of all good government is the virtue and sobriety of the people and the purity of their homes," we demand the prohibition of the manufacture, importation, exportation and sale for beverage purposes of all spirituous and malt liquors and other intoxicating liquors.

3. We arraign the Democratic party in New Hampshire for its constant and open advocacy of licensing the liquor traffic.

4. We arraign the Republican party in New Hampshire for its continued duplicity, professing to be the friend of prohibition yet treacherously deceiving its adherents and betraying its trust.

5. Our prohibitory laws are treated with neglect and even contempt by the great majority of our sworn officials from the governor down to the lowest executive officers of the towns and cities. We therefore publicly and solemnly denounce the mal-administration of law that ignores its flagrant violation in large sections of the state, and permits the establishment of a practical license system in others; and we positively demand of all our executive officers a full and impartial enforcement in all parts of our state of our prohibitory law.

6. Nothing so undermines governmental stability and encourages a general spirit of lawlessness as the nullification of law by sworn executive officials; we therefore deplore and renounce the action of our national administration in nullifying the "anti-canteen law," passed by the last congress, and thus, in defiance of law, perpetuating the canteen curse among our soldiers at home and abroad.

7. We especially denounce that policy of our national administration that permits the establishment of the American saloon, with all of its attendant evils to a well-nigh unlimited extent in our colonial possessions, as subversive to our own interests and the welfare of the native people.

8. As "it can never be legalized without sin," we solemnly declare that all partnership with the nefarious traffic by way of license, tax, or internal revenue is a disgrace to a Christian nation.

9. "Governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed," therefore we believe that woman should have the privilege of casting her ballot for the protection of herself, her children, her property and her home.

10. We bid God-speed to the W. C. T. U. and other kindred organizations whose education and work must result in gain to our common cause.

11. While we consider the organization of "law and order leagues" and "Anti-Saloon Leagues," a lack of economy and a satire on the party in power, as they ask our support for the purpose of doing what the party through its officials is sworn and paid to do, we will nevertheless cheerfully recognize whatever good they accomplish through agitation and otherwise.

12. A Christian citizen's ballot on election day is as much his witness for Christ as his testimony in the prayer meeting. It should continue a standing protest against all measures and candidates that are not in full accord and perfect harmony with the highest official utterances of his church and with the word of God; we therefore invite all who are in accord with the principles herein stated and who desire the spread of righteousness to unite with us by influence and vote for the election of honest men to official positions who will keep their solemn oath of office and give us a clean and righteous administration.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTIONS, STATE CAPITOL, ETC.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTIONS, 1791-1901.

Pursuant to the provisions of the constitution of 1784, the legislature in June, 1791, ordered precepts to be issued to the several towns and places in this state, to elect delegates to a convention to revise the constitution. Accordingly town meetings were held and delegates chosen, August 8, 1791. The convention met in Concord, on September 7, 1791, and continued in session until the 16th, when, after having appointed a committee to which were referred the constitution and the amendments that had been proposed in convention, they adjourned to February 8, 1792. The convention reassembled according to adjournment, and proceeded to the consideration of the report of the committee. After adopting seventy-two amendments and making provision for submitting them to the people for ratification or rejection at town meetings to be held on May 7, 1792, the convention again adjourned to the 30th of the same month. Reassembled according to adjournment, the convention found on canvassing the returns from the several towns that forty-six of the seventy-two amendments had been ratified by the people. But on account of the rejection of so many of the proposed amendments, there were inconsistencies in the constitution as adopted by the people, to correct which others were prepared and sent to the people to be voted on August 27, 1792. The convention on June 5 adjourned to September 5; upon reassembling, the supplementary amendments having been ratified, the convention dissolved on the same day. By act of the legislature approved December 14, 1792, that part of the new constitution relating to the election of officers took effect February 1, 1793, and the whole on the first Wednesday of June of the same year. This constitution without alteration was the fundamental law of the state for nearly sixty years.

The sense of the qualified voters on the expediency of calling a convention to revise the constitution has been taken as follows :

Date of act.	Yea.	Nay.
1799, December 13,	2,478	4,246
1806, June 11,	1,722	10,903
1820, December 11,	2,407	13,853
1833, January 5,	4,623	11,818
1833, July 6,	5,973	12,183
1837, July 1,	2,821	16,830
1844, June 19,	10,855	20,994
1846, July 10,	4,583	12,415
1849, July 7,	28,877	14,482
1857, June 27,	2,822	18,449
1860, July 4,	11,078	9,753
1862, July 9,	1,044	12,428
1864, August 19,	18,422	15,348
1868, July 2,	No record.
1869, July 8,	No record.
1875, July 2,	28,971	10,912
1883, July 27,	13,036	14,120
1885, August 13,	11,466	10,213
1893, April 1,	13,681	16,689
1895, March 27,	14,099	19,831
1899, March 1,	10,571	3,287

The legislature of 1850 provided for a convention and appropriated $40,000 to pay its expenses. The convention was in session in Concord from November 6, 1850, to November 22, and from December 3 until January 3, 1851, adjournment being taken until April 16, 1851. Every amendment proposed having, in the mean time, been rejected by popular vote, the convention prepared and provided for submitting to the qualified voters three amendments—abolishing the religious test and the property qualification, and for a new mode of amending the constitution. The amendment abolishing the property qualification was ratified ; the other two were rejected.

Although a majority of the votes cast under the acts of 1860 and 1864 was in each case in favor of calling a convention, the legislature did not deem it expedient to call one. A convention met in Concord, on December 6, 1876, and was in session eleven days. All of its proposed amendments, excepting two, were ratified. The convention for which provision was made by the legislature of 1887, was in session in Concord from January 2 to January 11, 1889. Of the amendments proposed, two were rejected by the people.

THE STATE CAPITOL.

The New Hampshire state house was first occupied in 1819, at the June session of the legislature. The first mention of a permanent habitation for the legislature was in 1814, when a committee was appointed “to consider the expediency of building a State-House, and report where, and the time when, it will be expedient to commence the building.” This committee reported that all the other states in the Union had state houses, and that New Hampshire should have one. A special committee, consisting of John Harris of Hopkinton, Benjamin Kimball, Jr., of Concord, and Andrew Bowers of Salisbury, was directed to consider the matter during the recess of the legislature and report at the next session.

In due season this committee reported that the building would cost, according to a plan prepared by them, $30,000, if built of stone; that a majority of the committee were in favor of locating it in Concord, but that Salisbury had offered $7,000 in cash for its location in that town. Two different bodies of Concord citizens promptly met this offer. One wished the state house built on the Stickney lot, where the court house now stands; the other favored the Green lot, which was finally selected. On June 21, 1816, the house of representatives appropriated $3,000 for the beginning of work in accordance with plans submitted by Stuart J. Park. On July 3 Charles Walker presented a bond to furnish a lot and the required amount of stone if the building should be located on the Stickney lot, while William A. Kent and Isaac Hill presented a bond to do the same, provided it was located on the Green lot.

On the same day Gov. William Plumer and four of his councilors, acting as a legislative committee, voted three to two to choose the Green lot. The absent councilor alleged that it had been agreed to put the matter over until his return. His charges caused an extended investigation, but it was finally voted to go on with the erection of the building. The sum of $4,000 was appropriated, and Albe Cady was appointed to superintend the work. In 1817, $30,000 was appropriated for the work, and in 1818 an appropriation was made for necessary furniture. The building committee was not discharged until June, 1820. This committee, which had been appointed July 5, 1816, consisted of Mr. Cady, William Low, and Jeremiah Pecker, all of Concord.

The structure as completed was one hundred and twenty-six feet in length, including the wings, and forty-nine feet in width, with a projection of four feet in the centre of each front, and cost as follows, including fencing and furniture: Amount appropriated from the state treasury, $67,372.44; stone work done at the state prison by convicts, $10,455.16; lot and materials given by citizens of Concord, $4,000; total, $81,827.60. The building as thus erected was occupied without any material change until remodeled in 1864-'66. Its general arrangement was much the same as the present building, except that the council chamber was located on the second floor in the south wing, and that the present council chamber and the office of the adjutant-general were then one large room, in which committee hearings and sessions of the supreme court were held.

The New Hampshire Gazetteer of 1823, in its description of the building, says: "Under the representatives' chamber is an open area in which are eight Doric columns, supporting the flooring above. This area, with the adjacent passages in the wings, cooled by the current of fresh air passing through the spacious doors and windows opening into them, affords, in the warm month of June, a delightful retreat to legislators, when fatigued by long attention to their arduous duties, or heated by the ardor of debate above stairs; and it is by no means an uncommon case to see them availing themselves of the benefits of this pleasant retirement."

In 1854 Gov. N. B. Baker called the attention of the legislature to the necessity for the construction of fire-proof vaults in the state house, or of a separate fire-proof building for the housing of documents belonging to the state and certain state offices. In 1855 plans were submitted to the legislature calling for an expenditure of $37,000 in improvements to the state house, or of $17,500 for a separate building. The matter was postponed until the next session, however, and nothing was done in the matter until 1863, when the legislature passed a resolution setting forth the fact that the largely increased business of the state government imperatively required an enlargement of the state house; that the city of Concord derived considerable benefit from the location, and should contribute materially to the expense of enlarging the capitol.

The resolution authorized the Governor and Council to cause new plans and estimates to be made, and to receive propositions from the city of Concord, or any other city or town having necessary railroad facilities and "desirous of having the state house established therein." Bids were to be made to the Governor, and to be by him presented to the legislature of 1864. The city of Manchester submitted a proposition to erect and complete a building without expense to the state, provided it should be located in that city. Concord's city government voted on May 23, 1864, to raise and appropriate $100,000 for the work of enlarging the building then in use. Subsequently $50,000 more was raised in the precinct.

These propositions were transmitted to the legislature by the governor, June 6, and referred to a select committee of one from each county. After a sharp contest, a majority of the legislature decided in favor of Concord, and the location of 1816 was confirmed by an act approved July 16, 1864, the act requiring Concord to bear the entire expense of the work, which amounted to nearly $200,000. An addition to the centre of 28 by 50 feet was constructed, and one of 28 by 38 feet on each wing, making a total increase in superficial area of 3,528 feet. It was at this time that Capitol street was opened from Main to State, making the state house and its park the occupant of an entire block. The two-story porch on the east front, with its eight massive columns, was constructed at the same time.

The state house then included on its ground floor the Doric hall or rotunda, the state library, the council chamber, the governor's private room, the adjutant-general's office and the offices of the secretary of state, state treasurer, insurance commissioner, and superintendent of public instruction. On the second floor were the representatives' hall and senate chamber, two committee rooms, and the offices of the sergeant-at-arms, the state historian, and the secretary of the state board of agriculture. In the French roof were eight committee rooms. In Doric hall were placed four large cases containing the battle flags of New Hampshire regiments in the War of the Rebellion.

In 1876 a fountain was placed in the centre of the walk in front of the state house, but in 1879 was removed to its present location in the southeast corner of the park. A new steam-heating system was installed in 1879, and in 1883 extensive improvements were made in the basement. In 1895, upon the completion of the magnificent state library building, the books belonging to the state were removed thither from the state house, together with many of the portraits that had formerly hung in the older building. The offices of the state board of agriculture and the state superintendent of public instruction were likewise removed from the state house.

The space formerly occupied by the state library was divided into offices for the insurance commissioner, the bureau of labor, and the headquarters of the New Hampshire department, Grand Army of the Republic. In 1900 new chairs were installed in representatives' hall, new and improved cases for the battle flags in Doric hall were put in place, and a telephone system was put in, connecting various parts of the building.

In 1886 a bronze statue of Daniel Webster was presented to the state by Benjamin Pierce Cheney, and erected in the centre of the park in front of the state house. In 1890 the state paid honor to the memory of Gen. John Stark by the erection of a bronze statue to the south of that of Webster. And in 1892 the Hon. William E. Chandler erected on the north of the Webster statue a similar tribute to his father-in-law, the Hon. John P. Hale. In each case the dedication of the statue was signalized by interesting exercises participated in by distinguished speakers from this and other states. Mrs. Larz Anderson has announced her intention of presenting to the state a statue of her father, the late Commodore George H. Perkins, U. S. N., which will be placed on the west line of the state house park.

1. The president having taken the chair, and a quorum being present, the journal of the preceding day shall be read, and any erroneous entry shall be corrected.

2. No member shall hold conversation with another during the reading of the journal, or while a member is speaking in debate.

3. Every member, rising to speak, shall address the president, and when he has finished shall sit down.

4. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question, on the same day, without leave of the senate.

5. More than one member rising to speak at the same time, the president shall decide who shall speak first.

6. If any member transgress the rules of the senate, the president shall, or any member may, call him to order;—in which case the member so called to order shall sit down, and the senate, if appealed to, shall decide in the case; but if there be no appeal, the decision of the president shall be conclusive.

7. No member shall absent himself without permission from the senate.

8. A motion shall be seconded before it is debated, and if required by the president or any member, it shall be reduced to writing.

9. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to postpone indefinitely, to lay on the table, to postpone to a certain day, to commit, or to amend, which several motions shall take precedence in the order in which they are arranged. And no motion to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a certain day, or to commit, being decided, shall be in order at the same stage of the bill or proposition until after an adjournment.

10. If the question under debate will admit of division, any member may have it divided; and in filling blanks, the longest time and the largest sum shall be put first.

11. When the reading of a paper is called for, and the same is objected to, it shall be decided by a vote of the senate, and without debate.

12. When the yeas and nays are required, each member shall declare his assent or dissent to the question, unless for special reasons he be excused by the senate.

13. When a motion is made to shut the doors of the senate, on the discussion of any business which in the opinion of any member may require secrecy, the president shall require the gallery to be closed; and the doors shall remain closed until the subject is disposed of.

14. After a motion has been decided, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the majority, or if the senate be equally divided, any member voting on the side prevailing, to move for a reconsideration thereof, unless the bill, resolution, report, amendment, or motion on which the vote was taken, has gone from the possession of the senate; but no motion to reconsider shall be in order unless made the same day on which the vote was taken, or the next day after that on which the vote was taken, on which the senate shall be in session.

15. Before any petition or memorial address to the senate shall be received and read, a brief statement of the contents thereof shall be made by the member introducing the same.

16. Any member, on giving notice of asking leave to bring in a bill, shall state the nature of the bill he proposes to introduce, and at least one day's notice shall be given before a motion for leave shall be in order.

17. Every bill shall be read three times before its passage, and the president shall give notice at each time whether it be the first, second, or third reading; and no bill after it has been read a second time, shall have a third reading before an adjournment.

18. All resolutions which may require the signature of the governor shall be treated in the same manner as bills.

19. When a bill shall have been read a first time and ordered to a second reading, it shall be immediately read a second time by its title, and by the president referred to the appropriate standing committee, unless otherwise ordered by the senate.

20. All bills introduced in the senate, to repeal or modify an existing statute, shall refer to the act proposed to be repealed or modified by the title and session at which it was passed; and no bill shall refer to any statute by the number of the chapter of the pamphlet laws.

21. The senate may resolve itself into a committee of the whole at any time on motion made for that purpose; and in forming a committee of the whole, the president shall leave the chair, and appoint a chairman to preside in committee. The president may at any time name any member to perform the duties of the chair; but such substitution shall not extend beyond one legislative day.

22. The last question, upon the second reading of a bill or resolution, shall always be, Shall it be read a third time?—and no amendment shall be received or discussed on the third reading of any bill or resolution unless by consent of sixteen members present, but it shall at all times be in order, before the final passage of a bill or resolution, to move its commitment; and should such commitment take place, and an amendment be reported, the bill or resolution shall again be read a second time, and considered as in committee of the whole.

23. The titles of bills, and such parts thereof as may be affected by proposed amendments, shall be entered on the journals.

24. All bills, resolutions, and addresses, after passing the senate, shall be signed by the president; and all warrants and other processes issued by order of the senate shall be under his hand and seal, attested by the clerk.

25. The following standing committees, to consist of five members each, shall be appointed at the commencement of any session, with leave to report by bill or otherwise: A committee on the judiciary; a committee on incorporations; a committee on labor; a committee on military affairs; a committee on roads, bridges, and canals; a committee on claims; a committee on railroads; a committee on banks; a committee on agriculture; a committee on manufactures; a committee on elections; a committee on education; a committee on finance; a committee on state prison and industrial school; a committee on asylum for the insane; a committee on revision of the laws; a committee on towns and parishes; a committee on soldiers' home; a committee on fisheries and game; and a committee on public health. There shall also be a committee on rules, consisting of three members, one of whom shall be the president.

26. All committees shall be appointed by the president, unless otherwise directed by the senate.

27. When the senate shall concur with the house of representatives in the appointment of a joint committee, consisting of not more than five members of the house, two members shall be added on the part of the senate; but when more than five, three members of the senate shall be added.

28. Messages shall be sent to the house of representatives by the clerk of the senate.

29. Messages from the governor or house of representatives may be received at all times, except when the senate is engaged in putting the question, in calling the yeas and nays, in counting the ballots, or in reading the journal.

30. All questions shall be put by the president, and each member of the senate shall signify his assent or dissent by answering yea or nay. If the president doubts, or a division is called for, the senate shall divide. Those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise from their seats and stand till they be counted, and afterwards those in the negative shall rise and stand till they be counted. The president shall then rise and state the decision of the senate.

31. No person except the members of the executive, or members of the house of representatives and its officers, shall be admitted within the bar of the senate, except by invitation of the president, or some member with his consent.

32. The senate shall adjourn to meet at eleven o'clock in the morning and three o'clock in the afternoon of each day unless the senate shall otherwise order.

33. Motions to adjourn shall be decided without debate.

34. No standing rule of the senate shall be suspended unless two thirds of the members present vote in favor thereof, and no rule shall be rescinded unless one day's notice of the motion has been given and two thirds of those present vote therefor.

35. Every bill and joint resolution, except private acts, originating in the senate, which has been favorably reported upon by the committee having it in charge, shall be declared by the president laid upon the table, and the clerk directed to procure a sufficient number of printed copies thereof for the use of the senate; and that when said bills and joint resolutions are printed and distributed, the clerk shall cause a copy of the same to be laid on the president's table, and they shall be taken up in their order without motion, and disposed of in the same manner as they would have been had they not been declared laid on the table. And every bill or joint resolution so introduced shall be headed senate bill, or joint resolution, as the case may be.

26. When a question is postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted upon during the session except by unanimous consent.

27. Any member may call for a division of the question when the sense will admit of it; and upon a motion to amend, a refusal to strike out words shall neither preclude amendment to such words nor a motion to strike out and insert.

28. A motion for commitment, until it is decided, shall preclude all amendment to the main question, and all motions and reports may be committed at the pleasure of the house.

29. No new motion shall be admitted, under color of amendment, as a substitute for the motion under debate.

30. No vote shall be reconsidered, unless the motion for reconsideration be made by a member who voted with the majority, nor unless the notice of such motion be given on the same day on which the vote passed, or on the next day on which the house shall be in session, between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock.

When a bill shall have been introduced by a member upon leave, or by message from the senate, and read a first time, if it be not rejected or otherwise disposed of by the house, the question shall be, "Shall the bill be read a second time?" And if ordered to a second reading it shall immediately be read a second time by its title, and be by the speaker referred to the appropriate standing committee, unless otherwise ordered by the house. No bill after it has been read a second time, shall have a third reading until after an adjournment. The time assigned for the second and third readings of bills and resolutions shall be eleven o'clock in the forenoon and three o'clock in the afternoon, unless otherwise ordered by the house.

Upon bills and resolutions committed to a committee of the whole house, the bill or resolution shall first be read throughout by the clerk, and then again read and debated by clauses, leaving the preamble of the bill to be last considered; the body of the bill or resolution shall not be defaced or interlined, but all amendments, noting the page and line, shall be duly entered by the clerk on a separate paper, as the same shall be agreed to by the committee and so reported to the house. After report, the bill or resolution shall again be subject to be debated and amended by clauses, before a question to pass it to a third reading be taken.

51. The rules of proceeding in the house shall be observed in committee of the whole house, so far as they may be applicable, except the rule limiting the time of speaking.

ORDER OF BUSINESS OF THE DAY.

52. The speaker shall call for petitions from members of the house. The petitions having been presented and disposed of, reports, first from the standing and then from the select committees, shall be called for and disposed of. And the above business shall be done in no other part of the day, except by permission of the house.

53. The unfinished business in which the house was engaged at the last preceding adjournment, if called for by any member, shall have the preference over all other business except the general order of the day; and no motion, or any other business except the general order of the day, shall be received without special leave of the house, until the former is disposed of.

PART FIRST.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

ARTICLE 1. All men are born equally free and independent ; therefore all government of right originates from the people, is founded in consent, and instituted for the general good.

ART. 2. All men have certain natural, essential, and inherent rights, among which are the enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing, and protecting property, and, in a word, of seeking and obtaining happiness.

ART. 3. When men enter into a state of society they surrender up some of their natural rights to that society in order to insure the protection of others; and, without such an equivalent, the surrender is void.

ART. 4. Among the natural rights, some are in their very nature unalienable, because no equivalent can be given or received for them. Of this kind are the rights of conscience.

ART. 5. Every individual has a natural and unalienable right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience and reason; and no subject shall be hurt, molested, or restrained, in his person, liberty, or estate, for worshipping God in the manner and season most agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience, or for his religious profession, sentiments, or persuasion, provided he doth not disturb the public peace or disturb others in their religious worship.

ART. 6. As morality and piety, rightly grounded on evangelical principles, will give the best and greatest security to government, and will lay in the hearts of men the strongest obligations to due subjection, and as the knowledge of these is most likely to be propagated through a society by the institution of the public worship of the DEITY and of public instruction in morality and religion, therefore, to promote these important purposes, the people of this state have a right to empower, and do hereby fully empower, the legislature to authorize, from time to time, the several towns, parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies within this state to make adequate provision, at their own expense, for the support and maintenance of public Protestant teachers of piety, religion, and morality. Provided, notwithstanding, that the several towns, parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies shall at all times have the exclusive right of electing their own public teachers, and of contracting with them for their support and maintenance. And no person of any one particular religious sect or denomination shall ever be compelled to pay towards the support of the teacher or teachers of another persuasion, sect, or denomination. And every denomination of Christians, demeaning themselves quietly and as good subjects of the state, shall be equally under the protection of the law; and no subordination of any one sect or denomination to another shall ever be established by law. And nothing herein shall be understood to affect any former contracts made for the support of the ministry; but all such contracts shall remain and be in the same state as if this constitution had not been made.

ART. 7. The people of this state have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves as a free, sovereign, and independent state, and do, and forever hereafter shall, exercise and enjoy every power, jurisdiction, and right pertaining thereto which is not or may not hereafter be by them expressly delegated to the United States of America in congress assembled.

ART. 8. All power residing originally in, and being derived from, the people, all the magistrates and officers of government are their substitutes and agents, and at all times accountable to them.

ART. 9. No office or place whatsoever in government shall be hereditary, the abilities and integrity requisite in all not being transmissible to posterity or relations.

ART. 10. Government being instituted for the common benefit, protection, and security of the whole community, and not for the private interest or emolument of any one man, family, or class of men, therefore, whenever the ends of government are perverted and public liberty manifestly endangered, and all other means of redress are ineffectual, the people may, and of right ought to, reform the old or establish a new government. The doctrine of non-resistance against arbitrary power and oppression is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

ART. 11. All elections ought to be free; and every inhabitant of the state, having the proper qualifications, has equal right to elect and be elected into office.

ART. 12. Every member of the community has a right to be protected by it in the enjoyment of his life, liberty, and property. He is, therefore, bound to contribute his share in the expense of such protection, and to yield his personal service, when necessary, or an equivalent. But no part of a man's property shall be taken from him or applied to public uses without his own consent or that of the representative body of the people. Nor are the inhabitants of this state controllable by any other laws than those to which they or their representative body have given their consent.

ART. 13. No person who is conscientiously scrupulous about the lawfulness of bearing arms shall be compelled thereto, provided he will pay an equivalent.

ART. 14. Every subject of this state is entitled to a certain remedy, by having recourse to the laws, for all injuries he may receive in his person, property, or character; to obtain right and justice freely, without being obliged to purchase it; completely and without any denial; promptly, and without delay; conformably to the laws.

ART. 15. No subject shall be held to answer for any crime or offense until the same is fully and plainly, substantially and formally, described to him, or be compelled to accuse or furnish evidence against himself. And every subject shall have a right to produce all proofs that may be favorable to himself, to meet the witnesses against him face to face, and to be fully heard in his defense by himself and counsel. And no subject shall be arrested, imprisoned, despoiled, or deprived of his property, immunities, or privileges, put out of the protection of the law, exiled, or deprived of his life, liberty, or estate, but by the judgment of his peers or the law of the land.

ART. 16. No subject shall be liable to be tried, after an acquittal, for the same crime or offense; nor shall the legislature make any law that shall subject any person to a capital punishment (excepting for the government of the army and navy, and the militia in actual service) without trial by jury.

ART. 17. In criminal prosecutions, the trial of facts in the vicinity where they happen is so essential to the security of the life, liberty, and estate of the citizen, that no crime or offense ought to be tried in any other county than that in which it is committed, except in cases of general insurrection in any particular county, when it shall appear to the judges of the superior court that an impartial trial cannot be had in the county where the offense may be committed, and, upon their report, the legislature shall think proper to direct the trial in the nearest county in which an impartial trial can be obtained.

ART. 18. All penalties ought to be proportioned to the nature of the offense. No wise legislature will affix the same punishment to the crimes of theft, forgery, and the like, which they do to those of murder and treason. Where the same undistinguishing severity is exerted against all offenses, the people are led to forget the real distinction in the crimes themselves and to commit the most flagrant with as little compunction as they do the lightest offenses. For the same reason, a multitude of sanguinary laws is both impolitic and unjust, the true design of all punishments being to reform, not to exterminate, mankind.

ART. 19. Every subject hath a right to be secure from all unreasonable searches and seizures of his person, his houses, his papers, and all his possessions. Therefore, all warrants to search suspected places or arrest a person for examination or trial, in prosecutions for criminal matters, are contrary to this right, if the cause or foundation of them be not previously supported by oath or affirmation, and if the order, in a warrant to a civil officer, to make search in suspected places or to arrest one or more suspected persons or to seize their property, be not accompanied with a special designation of the person or object of search, arrest, or seizure; and no warrant ought to be issued but in cases and with the formalities prescribed by law.

ART. 20. In all controversies concerning property and in all suits between two or more persons, except in cases in which it has been heretofore otherwise used and practiced, and except in cases in which the value in controversy does not exceed one hundred dollars and title of real estate is not concerned, the parties have a right to trial by jury; and this method of procedure shall be held sacred, unless, in cases arising on the high seas and such as relate to mariners' wages, the legislature shall think it necessary hereafter to alter it.

ART. 21. In order to reap the fullest advantage of the inestimable privilege of trial by jury, great care ought to be taken that none but qualified persons should be appointed to serve; and such ought to be fully compensated for their travel, time, and attendance.

ART. 22. The liberty of the press is essential to the security of freedom in a state; it ought, therefore, to be inviolably preserved.

ART. 23. Retrospective laws are highly injurious, oppressive, and unjust. No such laws, therefore, should be made, either for the decision of civil causes or the punishment of offenses.

ART. 24. A well-regulated militia is the proper, natural, and sure defense of a state.

ART. 25. Standing armies are dangerous to liberty, and ought not to be raised or kept up without the consent of the legislature.

ART. 26. In all cases and at all times, the military ought to be under strict subordination to, and governed by, the civil power.

ART. 27. No soldier, in time of peace, shall be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; and, in time of war, such quarters ought not to be made but by the civil magistrate, in a manner ordained by the legislature.

ART. 28. No subsidy, charge, tax, impost, or duty shall be established, fixed, laid, or levied, under any pretext whatsoever, without the consent of the people or their representatives in the legislature, or authority derived from that body.

ART. 29. The power of suspending the laws or the execution of them ought never to be exercised but by the legislature, or by authority derived therefrom, to be exercised in such particular cases only as the legislature shall expressly provide for.

ART. 30. The freedom of deliberation, speech, and debate in either house of the legislature is so essential to the rights of the people, that it cannot be the foundation of any action, complaint, or prosecution in any other court or place whatsoever.

ART. 31. The legislature shall assemble for the redress of public grievances and for making such laws as the public good may require.

ART. 32. The people have a right, in an orderly and peaceable manner, to assemble and consult upon the common good, give instructions to their representatives, and to request of the legislative body, by way of petition or remonstrance, redress of the wrongs done them, and of the grievances they suffer.

ART. 33. No magistrate or court of law shall demand excessive bail or sureties, impose excessive fines, or inflict cruel or unusual punishments.

ART. 34. No person can in any case be subjected to law martial or to any pains or penalties by virtue of that law, except those employed in the army or navy, and except the militia in actual service, but by authority of the legislature.

ART. 35. It is essential to the preservation of the rights of every individual, his life, liberty, property, and character, that there be an impartial interpretation of the laws and administration of justice. It is the right of every citizen to be tried by judges as impartial as the lot of humanity will admit. It is, therefore, not only the best policy, but for the security of the rights of the people, that the judges of the supreme judicial court should hold their offices so long as they behave well, subject, however, to such limitations on account of age as may be provided by the constitution of the state; and that they should have honorable salaries, ascertained and established by standing laws.

ART. 36. Economy being a most essential virtue in all states, especially in a young one, no pension should be granted but in consideration of actual services; and such pensions ought to be granted with great caution by the legislature, and never for more than one year at a time.

ART. 37. In the government of this state, the three essential powers thereof—to wit, the legislative, executive, and judicial—ought to be kept as separate from, and independent of, each other as the nature of a free government will admit or as is consistent with that chain of connection that binds the whole fabric of the constitution in one indissoluble bond of union and amity.

ART. 38. A frequent recurrence to the fundamental principles of the constitution and a constant adherence to justice, moderation, temperance, industry, frugality, and all the social virtues, are indispensably necessary to preserve the blessings of liberty and good government. The people ought, therefore, to have a particular regard to all those principles in the choice of their officers and representatives; and they have a right to require of their lawgivers and magistrates an exact and constant observance of them in the formation and execution of the laws necessary for the good administration of government.

PART SECOND.

FORM OF GOVERNMENT.

ARTICLE 1. The people inhabiting the territory formerly called The Province of New Hampshire do hereby solemnly and mutually agree with each other to form themselves into a free, sovereign, and independent body politic, or state, by the name of THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

GENERAL COURT.

ART. 2. The supreme legislative power within this state shall be vested in the senate and house of representatives, each of which shall have a negative on the other.

ART. 3. The senate and house shall assemble biennially, on the first Wednesday of January and at such other times as they may judge necessary, and shall dissolve and be dissolved seven days next preceding the said first Wednesday of January biennially, and shall be styled THE GENERAL COURT OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

ART. 4. The general court shall forever have full power and authority to erect and constitute judicatories and courts of record or other courts, to be holden in the name of the state, for the hearing, trying, and determining all manner of crimes, offenses, pleas, processes, complaints, actions, causes, matters, and things whatsoever, arising or happening within this state, or between or concerning persons inhabiting, or residing, or brought within the same, or whether the same be criminal or civil, or whether the crimes be capital or not capital, and whether the said pleas be real, personal, or mixed, and for the awarding and issuing execution thereon; to which courts and judicatories are hereby given and granted full power and authority, from time to time, to administer oaths or affirmations for the better discovery of truth in any matter in controversy or depending before them.

ART. 5. And, further, full power and authority are hereby given and granted to the said general court, from time to time to make, ordain, and establish all manner of wholesome and reasonable orders, laws, statutes, ordinances, directions, and instructions, either with penalties or without, so as the same be not repugnant or contrary to this constitution, as they may judge for the benefit and welfare of this state and for the governing and ordering thereof and of the subjects of the same, for the necessary support and defense of the government thereof; and to name and settle biennially, or provide by fixed laws for the naming and settling all civil officers within this state, such officers excepted the election and appointment of whom are hereafter in this form of government otherwise provided for; and to set forth the several duties, powers, and limits of the several civil and military officers of this state, and the forms of such oaths or affirmations as shall be respectively administered unto them for the execution of their several offices and places, so as the same be not repugnant or contrary to this constitution; and, also, to impose fines, mulcts, imprisonments, and other punishments; and to impose and levy proportional and reasonable assessments, rates, and taxes upon all the inhabitants of, and residents within, the said state, and upon all estates within the same, to be issued and disposed of by warrant, under the hand of the governor of this state for the time being, with the advice and consent of the council, for the public service, in the necessary defense and support of the government of this state and the protection and preservation of the subjects thereof, according to such acts as are or shall be in force within the same. Provided, that the general court shall not authorize any town to loan or give its money or credit, directly or indirectly, for the benefit of any corporation having for its object a dividend of profits, or in any way aid the same by taking its stock or bonds.

ART. 6. And, while the public charges of government or any part thereof shall be assessed on polls and estates in the manner that has heretofore been practiced, in order that such assessments may be made with equality, there shall be a valuation of the estates within the state taken anew once in every five years, at least, and as much oftener as the general court shall order.

ART. 7. No member of the general court shall take fees, be of counsel, or act as advocate in any cause before either branch of the legislature; and, upon due proof thereof, such member shall forfeit his seat in the legislature.

ART. 8. The doors of the galleries of each house of the legislature shall be kept open to all persons who behave decently, except when the welfare of the state, in the opinion of either branch, shall require secrecy.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

ART. 9. There shall be, in the legislature of this state, a representation of the people, biennially elected, and founded upon principles of equality, and, in order that such representation may be as equal as circumstances will admit, every town, or place entitled to town privileges, and wards of cities having six hundred inhabitants by the last general census of the state, taken by authority of the United States or of this state, may elect one representative; if eighteen hundred such inhabitants, may elect two representatives; and so proceeding in that proportion, making twelve hundred such inhabitants the mean increasing number for any additional representative: provided, that no town shall be divided or the boundaries of the wards of any city so altered as to increase the number of representatives to which such town or city may be entitled by the next preceding census; and provided, further, that, to those towns and cities which since the last census have been divided or had their boundaries or ward lines changed, the general court, in session next before these amendments shall take effect, shall equitably apportion representation in such manner that the number shall not be greater than it would have been had no such division or alteration been made.

ART. 10. Whenever any town, place, or city ward shall have less than six hundred such inhabitants, the general court shall authorize such town, place, or ward to elect and send to the general court a representative such proportionate part of the time as the number of its inhabitants shall bear to six hundred; but the general court shall not authorize any such town, place, or ward to elect and send such representative, except as herein provided.

ART. 11. The members of the house of representatives shall be chosen biennially, in the month of November, and shall be the second branch of the legislature.

ART. 12. All persons qualified to vote in the election of senators shall be entitled to vote, within the district where they dwell, in the choice of representatives.

Every member of the house of representatives shall be chosen by ballot, and, for two years, at least, next preceding his election, shall have been an inhabitant of this state; shall be, at the time of his election, an inhabitant of the town, parish, or place he may be chosen to represent; and shall cease to represent such town, parish, or place immediately on his ceasing to be qualified as aforesaid.

ART. 14. The presiding officers of both houses of the legislature shall severally receive out of the state treasury as compensation in full for their services, for the term elected, the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, and all other members thereof seasonably attending and not departing without license, the sum of two hundred dollars, exclusive of mileage: provided, however, that when a special session shall be called by the governor, such officers and members shall receive for attendance an additional compensation of three dollars per day for a period not exceeding fifteen days, and the usual mileage.

ART. 15. All intermediate vacancies in the house of representatives may be filled up from time to time in the same manner as biennial elections are made.

ART. 16. The house of representatives shall be the grand inquest of the state, and all impeachments made by them shall be heard and tried by the senate.

ART. 17. All money bills shall originate in the house of representatives, but the senate may propose or concur with amendments, as on other bills.

ART. 18. The house of representatives shall have power to adjourn themselves, but no longer than two days at a time.

ART. 19. A majority of the members of the house of representatives shall be a quorum for doing business, but, when less than two thirds of the representatives elected shall be present, the assent of two thirds of those members shall be necessary to render their acts and proceedings valid.

ART. 20. No member of the house of representatives or senate shall be arrested or held to bail on mesne process during his going to, returning from, or attendance upon, the court.

ART. 21. The house of representatives shall choose their own speaker, appoint their own officers, and settle the rules of proceedings in their own house, and shall be judge of the returns, elections, and qualifications of its members, as pointed out in this constitution. They shall have authority to punish by imprisonment every person who shall be guilty of disrespect to the house, in its presence, by any disorderly and contemptuous behavior, or by threatening or ill-treating any of its members, or by obstructing its deliberations; every person guilty of a breach of its privileges in making arrests for debt, or by assaulting any member during his attendance at any session; in assaulting or disturbing any one of its officers in the execution of any order or procedure of the house; in assaulting any witness or other person ordered to attend by, and during his attendance of, the house, or in rescuing any person arrested by order of the house, knowing them to be such.

ART. 22. The senate, governor, and council shall have the same powers in like cases, provided, that no imprisonment by either for any offense exceed ten days.

ART. 23. The journals of the proceedings and all public acts of both houses of the legislature shall be printed and published immediately after every adjournment or prorogation, and, upon motion made by any one member, the yeas and nays upon any question shall be entered on the journal, and any member of the senate or house of representatives shall have a right, on motion made at the time for that purpose, to have his protest or dissent, with the reasons, against any vote, resolve, or bill passed, entered on the journal.

SENATE.

ART. 24. The senate shall consist of twenty-four members, who shall hold their office for two years from the first Wednesday of January next ensuing their election.

ART. 25. And, that the state may be equally represented in the senate, the legislature shall, from time to time, divide the state into twenty-four districts, as nearly equal as may be without dividing towns and unincorporated places; and, in making this division, they shall govern themselves by the proportion of direct taxes paid by the said districts, and timely make known to the inhabitants of the state the limits of each district.

ART. 26. The free holders and other inhabitants of each district, qualified as in this constitution is provided, shall, biennially give in their votes for a senator at some meeting holden in the month of November.

ART. 27. The senate shall be the first branch of the legislature, and the senators shall be chosen in the following manner, viz.: every male inhabitant of each town, and parish with town privileges, and places unincorporated, in this state, of twenty-one years of age and upward, excepting paupers and persons excused from paying taxes at their own request, shall have a right, at the biennial or other meetings of the inhabitants of said towns and parishes, to be duly warned and holden biennially, forever, in the month of November, to vote, in the town or parish wherein he dwells, for the senator in the district whereof he is a member.

ART. 28. Provided, nevertheless, that no person shall be capable of being elected a senator who is not of the age of thirty years, and who shall not have been an inhabitant of this state for seven years immediately preceding his election; and, at the time thereof, he shall be an inhabitant of the district for which he shall be chosen.

ART. 29. And every person qualified as the constitution provides shall be considered an inhabitant, for the purpose of electing and being elected into any office or place within this state, in the town, parish, and plantation where he dwelleth and hath his home.

ART. 30. And the inhabitants of plantations and places unincorporated, qualified as this constitution provides, who are or shall be required to assess taxes upon themselves towards the support of government, or shall be taxed therefor, shall have the same privilege of voting for senators, in the plantations and places wherein they reside, as the inhabitants of the respective towns and parishes aforesaid have. And the meetings of such plantations and places, for that purpose, shall be holden biennially in the month of November, at such places respectively therein as the assessors thereof shall direct; which assessors shall have like authority for notifying the electors, collecting and returning the votes, as the selectmen and town clerks have in their several towns by this constitution.

ART. 31. The meetings for the choice of governor, council, and senators shall be warned by warrant from the selectmen, and governed by a moderator, who shall, in the presence of the selectmen (whose duty it shall be to attend), in open meeting, receive the votes of all the inhabitants of such towns and parishes present and qualified to vote for senators; and shall, in said meetings, in presence of the said selectmen and of the town clerk in said meetings, sort and count the said votes, and make a public declaration thereof, with the name of every person voted for and the number of votes for each person; and the town clerk shall make a fair record of the same, at large, in the town book, and shall make out a fair attested copy thereof, to be by him sealed up and directed to the secretary of the state, with a superscription expressing the purport thereof; and the said town clerk shall cause such attested copy to be delivered to the sheriff of the county in which said town or parish shall lie thirty days, at least, before the first Wednesday of January, or to the secretary of the state at least twenty days before the said first Wednesday of January; and the sheriff of each county or his deputy shall deliver all such certificates by him received into the secretary's office at least twenty days before the first Wednesday of January.

ART. 32. And, that there may be a due meeting of senators on the first Wednesday of January, biennially, the governor and a majority of the council for the time being shall, as soon as may be, examine the returned copies of such records, and, fourteen days before the first Wednesday of January, he shall issue his summons to such persons as appear to be chosen senators by a majority of votes to attend and take their seats on that day: provided, nevertheless, that, for the first year, the said returned copies shall be examined by the president and a majority of the council then in office; and the said president shall, in like manner, notify the persons elected to attend and take their seats accordingly.

ART. 33. And in case there shall not appear to be a senator elected by a majority of votes for any district, the deficiency shall be supplied in the following manner, viz.: the members of the house of representatives and such senators as shall be declared elected shall take the names of the two persons having the highest number of votes in the district, and out of them shall elect, by joint ballot, the senator wanted for such district; and, in this manner, all such vacancies shall be filled up in every district of the state; all vacancies in the senate arising by death, removal out of the state, or otherwise, except from failure to elect, shall be filled by a new election by the people of the district, upon the requisition of the governor, as soon as may be after such vacancies shall happen.

ART. 34. The senate shall be final judges of the elections, returns, and qualifications of their own members, as pointed out in this constitution.

ART. 35. The senate shall have power to adjourn themselves, provided such adjournment do not exceed two days at a time: provided, nevertheless, that, whenever they shall sit on the trial of any impeachment, they may adjourn to such time and place as they may think proper, although the legislature be not assembled on such day or at such place.

ART. 36. The senate shall appoint their president and other officers, and determine their own rules of proceedings. And not less than thirteen members of the senate shall make a quorum for doing business; and, when less than sixteen senators shall be present, the assent of ten, at least, shall be necessary to render their acts and proceedings valid.

ART. 37. ART. 38. Their judgment, however, shall not extend further than removal from office, disqualification to hold or enjoy any place of honor, trust, or profit under this state; but the party so convicted shall, nevertheless, be liable to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment, according to the laws of the land.

ART. 39. Whenever the governor shall be impeached, the chief justice of the supreme judicial court shall, during the trial, preside in the senate, but have no vote therein.
